FOREWORD

During the last few years, Shelton has become well-known because of her superb race track. People from all over the nation come to the racing events held here. Besides increasing Shelton's prestige, the races give a boost to the local economy. Because of this, our theme this year is "Sports Cars."

Sports car racing can be compared with our life in school. There is one main goal — to win the race — to receive the diploma, but along the course there are many obstacles and challenges, excitement and enjoyment in this supreme test of capacity and skill. In the 1960 yearbook we wish to tell the story of the roadway to graduation.

MARGARET BALDWIN, B.S., M.A.
Student Counselor

The persons pictured here have been present as officials and interested spectators at the last few laps of a great race that ends this June. This race to graduation has had a favorable course because of them. From the time the starting gun was fired until the flag signaled the end of the race, they have been alert to the drivers' every need and have lent a helping hand and a cheering word when it seemed necessary.

The Board of Education institutes rules and regulations for every race. The judges make sure that these rules and regulations are complied with by everyone at all times to insure a good race. The timekeepers keep accurate time schedules for every lap and record the performances of every winner and runner-up.

These people smooth the way for a successful run every year. Our thanks to the people who do such a magnificent job of administration.

Beginning the preliminary race of their high school years, the sophomores of '58 chose the following officers to lead them onward: Kermit Livermore, president; Annemarie Riske, vice president; Gene Geist, secretary-treasurer; and Becky Sharpe, Board of Control representative. Andy Tuson was the class advisor.

The Highclimber gridiron squad lost only one game in the '58 season, being sparked by sophomores Kerm Livermore, Ray Manke, Gene Sharpes, Warren Zeitler, Bill Goodpaster, Dan Sheedy, and Jim Mattis. Getting a shot at varsity play in basketball were Kerm Livermore, Ray Manke, Ron Guthrie, Bill Fitchett, and Bob Fitchett.

Eleven sports-minded sophomore girls turned out for the G.A.A., and eight earned admission into Scarlet "S" in the Spring.

Assemblies Committee representatives were Cathy Drebeck and Becky Sharpe.

Mr. Gary Irvine directed the sophomore play entitled "The Foolproof Murder."

The sophomore class was well-represented in the enthusiastic pep staff with Lorraine Demler, Karen Cole, and Carol Locke.

In addition to the sophomore play and the dance following it, the sophomore class also sponsored the successful drive for Muscular Dystrophy.

As the second preliminary race began, the junior class chose Stew Biehl, president; Jenny Knautz, vice president; Esther Johnson, secretary-treasurer; and Gene Geist, Board of Control representative. Robert Sund and Irene Burright were the class advisors.

Pat Simmons
Secretary

Juniors dominated every category of sports with twenty-one boys on the Highclimber gridiron squads, nine on the basketball teams, twelve on the baseball team, and eleven turning out for track. Seventeen junior girls participated in the Girls' Athletic Association.

Lorraine Demler was the only junior representative on the Pep Staff.

"Charley's Aunt" was presented by the junior class under the direction of Mrs. Susan Mroz.

Willard Kessel and Lorraine Demler represented the junior class on the Assemblies Committee.

Board of Control

In the spring of '59, the following nineteen junior students were initiated into the Margaret Baldwin Chapter of the National Honor Society: Carol Coffman, Sharri Coutts, Ruth Deffinbaugh, Lorraine Demler, Alina Devlin, Cathy Drebeck, Esther Johnson, Mary Kangas, Willard Kessel, Jenny Knautz, Carol Locke, Danelle McKay, Ray Manke, Mary Matson, Annemarie Riske, Thea Seager, Ann Schreier, Dennis Yule, and Warren Zeitler. Selected to attend Evergreen Girls' State during the summer of '59 were Cathy Drebeck, Lorraine Demler, Jenny Knautz, and Esther Johnson. Delegates to Boys' State were Ray Manke, Jim Mattis, Dennis Yule, and Dennis Sandvig.

Esther Johnson
Vice-president

Near the finish line of the second race, the junior class presented their grandest event of the year — the Junior Prom. The theme chosen for this annual formal event was "Moonlight Fascination." Gerald Spiker and Mary Brewer were selected Junior Prom King and Queen.

Larry Porter was the only senior to qualify as a semifinalist in the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test while David Wyatt and Danelle McKay received letters of commendation. Thirteen other seniors scored in the top ten percent of the nation.

Finalist in the yearly Voice of Democracy Contest was Mary Brewer who represented our school well in the district with a third-place victory.

During Class Day ceremonies, the senior class reviewed the three preliminary races at Irene S. Reed High School. The ceremony honored students who participated in various school activities and those who received awards. A class heart was given to the outstanding boy and the outstanding girl of the class.

With the completion of the third preliminary in June, 1960, the graduating class left the old race track only to find themselves confronted with the biggest race of all, whether it be a job or an advanced education. Regardless of what each member's plans may be, the class of '60 is an ambitious group, looking ahead on the road of life.

Boys' State Jim Mattis, Dennis Sandvig, Ray Manke, Dennis Yule.

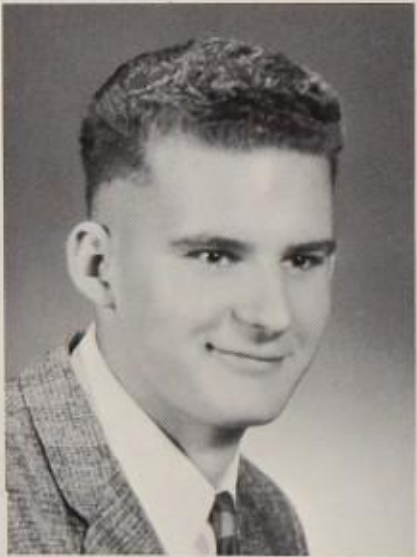

Girls' State Jenny Knautz, Lorraine Demler, Esther Johnson, Cathy Drebeck.

Sayonara was the theme chosen for the annual 1959 Senior Ball. The theme was beautifully carried out through the decorations which included Japanese lanterns, wind-chimes, and streamers of oriental flowers. The committee chairmen responsible for this were Gerald Spiker, Mary Brown, Janet Larson, Linda Myers, Mary Matson, Pat Ison, Carol Locke, Donna Brown, Judd Tuberg, Mary Brewer, Willard Kessel, and Jim Mattis. Music was furnished by the Miller's Men from the University of Washington. Jim Mattis and Mary Matson were chosen as the Senior Ball King and Queen.

BALL

Senior Play

Laurie Huntington returns home from college (where she is a sophomore majoring in psychology), expecting to find her usually well-adjusted family, but instead she finds, as she puts it, "A bunch of psychological knots!" Believing that she is qualified to straighten out her family's tangled lives, Laurie puts them through all kinds of tests to help them find themselves. Laurie's interference causes all kinds of disastrous and sometimes hilarious incidents.

The cast included: Lorraine Demler, Laurie Huntington; Jim Mattis, Sidney Huntington; Sharri Coutts, Martha Huntington; Ray Manke, Wally Huntington; Alina Devlin, Miss ("Gus") Gustavesky; Nicki Burnett, Joan Wood; Jan Norvold, Ted Wood; Bev Jagnow, Lillian Wood; Gene Geist, Mark Bradford; Nick Calkins, Horatio P. Honeywell; Guests at Martha's tea, Annemarie Riske, Sally Hoit, Patty Renecker, Wendy Clark, and Mitzi Barboni.

The play was directed by Mr. Larry Nelson and assistant director, Willard Kessel.

Junior Play

The junior class, under the able supervision of Mrs. Rogers and assistant director Shirley Linton, presented to the public a potpourri of three one-act plays.

The first play, "If Girls Asked Boys for Dates," by Anne Coulter Martens, was a satire of what it really would be like if girls did ask boys for dates. Starring in the act were Dave Sund, Kathy Kelly, Sherry Halbert, Judy Hyer, and Linda Leman.

"The Powers That Be" portrayed the higher powers that give advice to humans on how to solve their problems. This act featured Judy Manke, Peg Price, Jane Rockefeller, Neva Auset, Jackie Wells, and Pat Archer.

Juniors Joe Wingard, Joe Hansen, Ken Kessel, Ed Stock, Jo Johnsen, Gary Lord, and Nancy Nichols portrayed the characters in the third act, "The Pot Boiler," by Alice Gerstenberg. This presentation depicts the action of a stage production during rehearsals.

As the flag went down on another year, the junior class got off to a fast start. Leading them down the track were Laurie Somers, President; Jane Rockefeller, vice-president; Jayne Rucker, secretary-treasurer; and Jerry Shimek, Board of Control representative. Class advisors were Miss Irene Burright and Mr. Robert Sund.

In October the juniors presented a "Potpourri," three one-act plays which proved to be very successful. The play was directed by Mrs. Sheila Rogers. The junior boys played an important role in the Highclimber football team. They included Dave Sharpes, Neal Close, Ken Martig, Ron Ellis, Gary Schneider, Pete Buechel, Laurie Somers, Terry Osterberg, Gary Lord, and Joe Wingard.

The junior boys ably assisting the basketball team were returning lettermen Neal Close, Sherry Halbert, Laurie Somers, and Roy Bazzard.

Many girls participated in G.A.A. and Pep Club. Leading their enthusiasm to back up the Highclimbers at assemblies and games were juniors: Carolee Hurst, song queen, Peg Price, and Jim Brown, yell leaders.

The coming of spring brought forth more sports and activities in baseball, track, golf, and tennis.

Four junior girls and four boys were selected to attend the annual Evergreen Boys' and Girls' state.

Many junior girls willingly gave up their lunch time to sell candy at noon.

The biggest project of the year was the Junior Prom. The committees working on the prom worked as a team to make this formal dance a dazzling success and one they will never forget.

As the tradition goes, the class of '61 provided decorations for their upper classmen in Baccalaureate and Commencement Exercises.

The close of the year brought many happy memories to the class of '61. With an eye to the future the junior class looks on to another happy and rewarding year in their school life.

The sophomore class started the first lap of a three year race in good standing. Denny Hinton was the favorite candidate for class president. Denny's helpers were vice-president, Lynn Jeffrey; secretary-treasurer, Colleen Dombroski; and Board of Control representative, Scott Elliot.

However, it wasn't all work and no play, because the annual sophomore dance was a big success.

Several of the parts in the Christmas radio play were filled by sophomores. The regular sophomore play, presented during the second semester, was also a big success. Both plays were directed by Mr. Dean Tarrach.

The class had a good representation in the sports field with several boys turning out for each sport. Two sophomore boys earned their letters on the football team, while many others turned out for the "B" squad. Several boys saw action on the basketball court, through a very successful year. One, two, three was the count on the wrestling mats, where several boys showed their talent and skill. The sophomore class was also represented in track and baseball during the spring.

Two sophomore girls served on the Pep Staff, to cheer the team onward. These girls were Penny Kimbel and Kathy Santamaria.

Many girls qualified themselves for the "Scarlet S" by turning out all year long for G.A.A.

When it came to talent, the sophomores had it. They participated in band, Boys' and Girls' Club, Mixed Chorus and Senior Choir.

Among other things, sophomores also worked on the annual and the school paper.

This class has received the flag, indicating that the first lap is over and they are ready to move up into the junior position.

Girls'

Club

Every senior high school girl is a member of the Irene S. Reed Girls' Club, and all are encouraged to be active in the myriad projects embarked upon each year.

Heading the Girls' Club this year was an able and willing senior, Mary Brewer. The other members of the executive board include: Jo Johnsen, vice-president; Judy Rowe, secretary; Connie Brevig, Board of Control representative; Valerie Latham and Mitzi Barboni, senior class representatives; Jody Dayley and Roberta Crapo, junior class representative; Cathy Heuston and Kathy Kelsey, sophomore class representatives; Joan Faulk and Nan Nichols, candy chairmen; Donna Brown and Carol Locke, scrapbook chairmen; Mary MacRae and Sharri Coutts, girls' room chairmen; and Jenny Knautz and Esther Johnson, program chairmen. The club advisor was Miss Margaret Baldwin.

A formal installation of officers was held for the girls on September 23. The theme was "Blue Skies." This was the first of the formal meetings held every other month throughout the school year.

Competition was sharply aroused in the annual Tuberculosis Drive when it was declared a contest between the Boys' and Girls' Clubs. A record total of $1,053.07 was collected. Chairman for the Girls' Club was Darlene Emerson; Beverly Jagnow, co-chairman.

Linda Myers was this year's chairman for the Christmas toy drive, which has been sponsored by the Girls' Club since 1954. Toys are collected by the student body and distributed to underprivileged youngsters.

Always thrifty is this organization, for here every penny is put to good use. The candy sales and Forest Festival booth helped with girls' room expenses, and provided a $100 college scholarship for some deserving club member.

Another major activity was the Father-Daughter Banquet, February 11. The general chairman was Valerie Latham.

Climaxing the year's activities were the annual spring semi-formal dance and the Mother's Reception which featured a spring fashion show.

Boys' Club

The Boys' Club of Irene S. Reed has one of its most eventful years since its beginning in 1934. Jim Mattis was elected president at the end of the preceding year for reasons of representation in various activities during the summer, and the following officers were elected at the beginning of this year: Neal Close, vice-president; Sherry Halbert, secretary; and Bill Fitchett, board of control representative. Mr. Chet Dombroski was the club's advisor.

Ray Manke, Jim Mattis, Dennis Yule, and Dennis Sandvig represented the Boys' Club at the 1959 Evergreen Boys' State Conference.

In an effort to raise more money for the annual Tuberculosis Drive the Boys' Club engaged in a contest with the Girls' Club. The competition and enthusiasm were so great that over $1,000 was given to the Mason County Tuberculosis Association. A T.V. set was raffled off through the selling of tickets by the two clubs, and although the girls were victorious by a small margin in selling more tickets than the boys, it is ironic that the mother of the Boys' Club president won the T.V. set. The general chairman for this event was Gerald Spiker.

The next event of the year was the annual Thanksgiving Basket Drive headed by co-chairmen Jan Norvold and Dennis Yule with the purpose of providing a happier Thanksgiving for the needy families of Mason County.

In January came the Mother-Son Banquet which was a great success. The speaker, Dr. Upton, gave the mothers and their sons a message on the school system of the U.S.S.R. Dr. Upton had recently visited the U.S.S.R. The general chairman of the banquet was Ray Manke.

The boys found themselves in another contest with the girls in selling subscriptions to the Highclimber; the winning club was privileged to see a movie on school time. Also in February the Boys' Club put on a talent show for the Girls' Club as their prize for winning the T.B. Drive.

The boys enjoyed several assemblies throughout the year and also sponsored a dance.

The final project on the Boys' Club agenda was the Father-Son Mixer, which was thoroughly enjoyed by all the boys and fathers present. Warren Zeitler and Jerry Mallory headed this event.

The Mother-Son Banquet was a big success.

The editors must inspire the reporters and pass on their experience so that they may become editors.

The advisor, Mr. Joseph Hartough, not only advises in the publication of the paper, but also instructs in the arts of Journalism technique.

Working under Willard Kessel, editor-in-chief the first semester, were page editors Jenny Knautz, Alina Devlin, Roy Kimbel, Ken Kessel, and Dennis Yule who doubled as the photographer. Positions shifted quarterly to allow a variety to all staff members.

Willard and Ken Kessel

The Highclimber Staff put to press 15 six-column, four-page editions this year.

The responsibility of the Journalism class is a great one. Biweekly the staff must bring before the students a paper containing information, entertainment, and inspiration. It is their job to keep in touch with the teaching staff, administrators, club advisors, coaches, officers, board of control, maintenance staff, school board, and P.T.A. for information to bring to the students.

Willard Kessel, Ken Kessel, Jenny Knautz

Working with the staff was the office practice class who sold and organized advertisements, and the advanced typing class who typed all copy. Press Club and Quill and Scroll members frequently acted as guest writers.

A big event of the year was the Pacific Slope Press Clinic held at the University of Washington in February. Attending this two-day conference were several staff members who wished to further their knowledge of student publications.

The Senior Edition was the farewell publication for many staff members.

Press Club

The Press Club is composed of those students who have written articles for the "Highclimber," typed copy or worked on the yearbook.

Officers of the Irene S. Reed Press Club were elected early at the beginning of the school year. Those elected were; Alina Devlin, president; Mary Kangas, vice president; Linda Leman, secretary-treasurer; Jenny Knautz, board of control. Mr. Har-tough was the advisor.

To discover truth, to analyze circumstances, and to persuade audiences — such is the absorbing interest of our newly formed Debate Club. Its direction is in the capable hands of Mr. Paul Gillie, who taught the members the fundamentals of debate, and organized several sample debates. One topic of the year was: "Resolved that the federal government should substantially increase its control over labor unions."

Among the requirements for this club are an interest in current events and a willingness to work. Its agenda tentatively included meets during February and March in Tacoma. These meets included not only debate, but also oratory, interpretive reading, and impromptu speaking.

The name "Saghalie" was chosen by the Staff of 1912 and has been used as the name of the yearbook ever since. After 48 years of experience, the Saghalie has grown bigger and better every year.

Editor-in-chief of the Saghalie for 1960 was Cathy Drebeck. Her assistant was Danelle McKay, and the very able advisor was Mr. Gillie. Copy editor was Mary Ellen Kangas; make-up editor, Mary MacRae; sports editor, Bob Leeds; business manager, Larry Shelver; sales manager, Linda Leman; photography editor, Mary Matson; photographer, Dennis Yule. All these students and their staffs worked to make this year's Saghalie the best ever.

For a book of this kind to be a success, teamwork is required. The entire staff must work as a team to carry out the numerous details involved. Outstanding participation and management is rewarded by membership in the Quill and Scroll, and the Press Club.

Handbook

At the beginning of every school year, each student is given a copy of the Irene S. Reed High School Official Handbook. The students use this book as a guide to the knowledge of the rules and regulations they are expected to observe while on the school premises.

This handbook is especially helpful to new students in acquainting them with the teachers, clubs and organizations, and other information about the routine of high school. Other items in the handbook are basketball, football, and other sports schedules; school traditions; graduation requirements; and school songs and yells. The 1959-1960 handbook was planned and edited by Mary Brown, editor; and Alina Devlin, make-up editor. Mr. Joseph Hartough was the handbook advisor. Red and black, school colors, constitute the color-scheme of the handbook.

Planning for the handbook began in the spring of 1959 with students in the second semester journalism class gathering and composing the material to be included in the handbook.

Quill and Scroll

International Honor Society for High School Journalists

The George Hermes Chapter of Quill and Scroll, an international honorary society for high school journalists, was organized in Irene S. Reed High School in 1948 with Miss Margaret Baldwin as its advisor. Since that time Mr. Joseph Hartough has taken over the duties and responsibilities that accompany the supervision of this organization.

Membership is reserved for those students who have done superior work in news writing, editing, or business management on either the school newspaper, the Highclimber, or the school annual, the Saghalie. The students must be recommended by the supervisor of the publication, or the principal, and approved by the Executive Secretary of the society. The prospective member must be a junior or senior in the upper third of his class in scholastic standing.

The symbols of Quill and Scroll comprise the pin presented to each initiate. This year's initiation was held in March, at which time several students were officially recognized as club members in an impressive joint ceremony with the Press Club.

Dennis Yule served in the position of president this past year. Other officers were Ruth Deffinbaugh, vice-president; Mary Matson, secretary-treasurer; and Willard Kessel, Board of Control representative.

Honor Society

At the sound of the starting gun the race was begun by the Margaret Baldwin Chapter of the National Honor Society. Elections were held at the first meeting in September, 1959. Officers for the year were: Carol Coffman, president; Warren Zeitler, vice-president; Willard Kessel, secretary-treasurer; Dennis Yule, board of control representative and Mary Matson, reporter. Adviser of the organization for the third year was Miss Reta Loudermilk.

Membership in the National Honor Society is based upon four points: scholarship, leadership, character, and service. In order to be eligible for membership a person must have these four qualities and must have maintained a B average for seven successive quarters of high school.

Some of the activities of this organization during the year were folding and selling football programs; maintaining the pop machine in the social hall; working with the Shelton Lions Club in selling birthday calendars; and sponsoring a dance after the football game on October 30. The proceeds of these projects went into a fund for scholarships which were awarded to senior members of Honor Society.

Board of Control Representative, Dennis Yule, keeps the pop machine filled.

Thespian Society

During every big event, even a sports car race, various types of entertainment are needed to please the spectators. Here at Irene S. Reed High School we have those various types, including band, musical groups, choir, and the Thespian Society. Librarian Larry Nelson directed the dramatics group this year. Officers included Judd Tuberg, president; Thea Saeger, vice president; Geri Frederickson, secretary-treasurer; and Rawlin McInelly, Board of Control representative.

During the fall, the Thespian Society sold hot coffee and doughnuts at home football games. The main purpose of the National Thespian Society is the advancement of dramatic arts in the secondary schools. Membership is attained by major participation in one three-act play or major roles in two one-act plays, with a high quality of performance. Once a member, a student is required to continue in drama to earn stars, four of which indicate an Honor Thespian. Each year a senior member is selected Thespian of the Year by a panel of faculty members and Thespian members.

Stage Crew

The stage crew, under the direction of Mr. Bob Rogers, works behind the scenes in the production of plays, assemblies, and other dramatic projects. The stage crew is responsible for building and changing the set for each play, taking care of lighting and curtains, producing sound effects, and obtaining properties.

There are no specific requirements to become a member of the stage crew, as all crew members are volunteers. They must, however, be willing workers, because they are required to work before, during, and after all stage productions to see that everything is in good working order.

This group does much to make dramatic productions at Irene S. Reed a success, without asking for any applause or special recognition.

Office Workers

This year's office staff was as busy as ever. Among their various and important jobs were filing, collecting attendance slips, typing letters, answering the telephone and helping whenever and wherever they could.

The staff, consisting of juniors and seniors, was supervised by Miss Burright in the Angle Building, Donnagene Evans in the high school office, and Miss Baldwin in the counselor's office.

Librarians

The librarians worked during their study hall periods in one of the busiest rooms of our school . . . the library. The librarians were kept busy checking books in and out for the students and helping in the other phases of library work, such as handling reserve books and helping students find books on special subjects. The librarians also spent much time tracking down overdue books and collecting fines.

The library, under the able direction of Mr. Nelson, offers a collection of books, magazines and newspapers for the students to use. It is open from 8:00 in the morning till 4:00 in the afternoon. It is also open at noon for the students and during pep assemblies and other student body gatherings.

The librarians also keep a variety of interesting displays on the bulletin board in the library.

Projectionists

Under the able supervision of Mr. Bruce Kreger, this group of volunteers carries out an important phase of school life. They are often called out of their study period to show films to various classes. For this reason the projectionists, even though they are volunteers, must maintain a "C" or better grade average.

The new projectionists are coached in the fundamentals of operating the movie projector by the older, more experienced projectionists, with additional help by Mr. Kreger. After several weeks of "apprenticeship," the new projectionists are given the responsibilities of showing films on their own.

This behind-the-scenes group finds their satisfaction in the knowledge of an essential job well done.

F. T. A.

F.T.A. (Future Teachers of America) is composed of those students interested in teaching as a profession. Presiding officers for this year were: Ruth Deffinbaugh, president; Frances Clifton, vice-president; and Ron Wood, secretary-treasurer.

In order to work more efficiently, students were divided into groups according to the grade they wished to teach. In doing this, more emphasis could be placed on matters concerning that particular age level.

Programs which featured guest speakers were the high points of the club's year. Through their insight of the teaching profession, members learned of the advantages as well as disadvantages of a teaching career. F.T.A. is an excellent source of information about this worthy profession.

Art Club

The Art Club has been active in our school for seven years. It is an organization for students with interests in varied media of art work. Each member is required to complete at least one project for the year. Interests varied: the projects ranged from oil painting to charcoal, from stained glass to mosaics, and from wood carving to tapestry.

The club met on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month for a business meeting and project time. The president this year was Neil Brigham; the advisor was Miss Norma Fitzer, the art teacher.

The year was brought to a close by the annual trip to the Seattle Art Museum.

G. A. A.

G.A.A., the girls' athletic club, supplements the curricular activities of many girls, and offers them opportunities for exercise, fun, and fellowship. Weekly turnouts consist of team competition in practically every sport imaginable. The girls of 1960 also participated in three Play Days, organized a swimming party, and initiated new members into the club.

Those serving the club as officers were: Glenda Fain, President; Judy Waters, Vice-president; Linda Myers, Secretary; Carol Dreger, Treasurer; and Sharri Coutts, Board of Control Representative. The group, consisting of approximately forty girls, was under the supervision of Mrs. Ruth Willard.

"S" Club

The "S" Club of Irene S. Reed High School was formed in 1926 to bring together the athletes who, upon fulfilling certain requirements, have earned the right to wear, with pride, the letter "S". Upon being christened by a jolly initiation, these boys, under the guidance of Chet Dombroski, elect officers to establish a semblance of order. This year Roger Hermes was elected President; Dave Sharpes, Vice-president; Kenneth Martig, Secretary; Bill Goodpaster, Board of Control Representative. The "S" Club also provided ushers for the football games, arranged the football homecoming bonfire, sponsored dances and put on skits for pep rallies.

Scarlet "S"

Scarlet "S" is an organization for junior and senior high school girls who have earned at least one letter in G.A.A. or tennis. Earning a letter also gives the girls the privilege of wearing the letter sweater. The new letter men of Scarlet "S" are initiated in the fall of each year. The officers are few, because Scarlet "S" is a close part of G.A.A. The president was Valerie Latham; Sharri Coutts acted as both G.A.A. and Scarlet "S" Board of Control Representative.

Our first wrestling team scored one overwhelming victory over Olympia which indicated success for an initiating team. With the skill gained this year, Shelton's team will be out to win next year as we enter the new Seamount League.

DRIVE TO LIVE

Dedication of the 1960 "Saghalie" to sports cars is a theme in tune with the times.

It also recalls that the first American patent for an automobile was issued in June, 1895, the same year Simpson Logging Company opened for business in Shelton.

There were less than 900 automobiles in America at the beginning of the 20th century. Today's highways rumble with more than 70 million cars.

Each year more boys and girls qualify to drive. Each year, sad to say, more people, young and old are maimed or killed on the road. Bad driving causes most of these tragedies.

Make safe driving your life long habit. Sound rules have proved their worth and deserve your attention.

When you are driving:

1. Allow ample following distance.
2. Stay in one lane. Don't straddle the stripe.
3. Regulate your speed according to road conditions.
4. Slow down in traffic.
5. Don't hog the road. Practice the Golden Rule.
6. Drive to live!
